The reasons urged against the nomination of Mr. A., were so obviously made of all of our little satisfaction as in the venorable who were daily disrigarded, and minors and small children are compelled to work from eleven to fourteen hours each tion of Mr. A., were so obviously made of an evil—a burden upon the weak and help-less that cries for the interposition of the bliouse. Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalted virtues of this great discovery. This, preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any increasing or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors facely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are efficiently used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and criginal, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration.

BATH. Maine, Jan. 29, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.;

GENTLEMEN: Having my attention called a few munths since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative. I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite grey, probably one-third while; my whiskers were of same character. Some three months since 1 procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify in the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my heir has resum dits natural color, and I believe, more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty-five years. I am naw sixty years old; my good wife at the sign of fifty-two has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable dissovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city and a resident here for the hast fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the alove, with my name attached, is at you service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours,

My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

THE CHRISTIAN LITURGY.

THE CHRISTIAN LITURGY.

LEGARTLY bound in embroidered morocco, gilt edge, price 75 cts. For safe by, C. E. HAMMET Jr.

The liturgy of the Church of America now offered to the Public, is drawn from various religious writings, and breathes the spirit of the Bible.

The Forms of Adoration and Petition, and its summary of Christian faith and Christian doctrine, are intelligible and plain. Its Gatechism is pure, and beautifully adapted to the comprehension of young minds—enlightening without confusing theo.—and preparing the way for hely throughout is well arranged, and of a character to demand the close examination of mean congregations of faithful men proposing to unite and form themselves into a visible Church of Christ.

The religious feeling which pervades the Liturgy of the Church of America, and its freedom from—what is too common in illurgical and extemporaneous prayers—an attempt tomake the devotions of the Church a means of indectrinating the worshippers in a sectarian creed, is sufficient to recommend it to attention.

But the Public are particularly called to Liturgy which shall comprehend those docstrines, and those only, which are essential to traguide the mind in a right worship of God. It is convicuant to the precise nature of the strines, and those only, which are essential to traguide the mind in a right worship of God. It is obvious that men who differ as to the origin of sin, or as to the precise nature of the aconement, may be vertheless equally love God, and may be alike grateful to him for his mercy, and desire his approval, and seek his will, and adore his infinite perfections. They may differ on many theological inents of devout trust, and reverential gratitiede, and may equally feet the need of divine help. If they may thus agree in what is case-ritial to devotion, why may they not unite in religious worship? If they will abstain from obtruding into the act of worship those theological speculations which have no neccessary connection with It, why may they not bow together before that God which they all adors?

The Liturgy of the Churkon or Anerica does not profess to teach a creed, but to give expressions to those feelings which should be in man's heart when he looks up to God. It would leave the theological questions on which sects divide to be settled by each individual in his own way, while it would draw all Christian people rogether, in the sentiment and offices of devolunt.

The Christian Liturgy, published in 1847, for the Church or Anerica, is based on the Book of Christian Liturgy, published in the country; much is added to the devolunt part, and it approaches considerably to the Chapel Liturgy published in 1785.

Heads of families, and teachers of religion proposing to minister the Gospel to the numerous societies of Christian among us, are solicited to examine this book with eare, and to accept or reject it according to their individual judgments. And it is respectfully suggested to those who approve of its design, to read the several services therein put forth, on all occasions where their heares are of different religious creeds, or of antagonistic opinions, as by so doing their labours will tend to promote peace, good will, and brotherhood, and greatly contribute to the ascellness of the Church of America.
